One Voice. One Mission

About us

The Association of Natural Health, Inc. (AONH) was founded in 2008 by natural health care advocate Sam M. Abukittah. AONH Board members, coming from a wide variety of backgrounds in business, allopathic and natural medicines, bring unique knowledge and expertise to the association.

The Association of Natural Health was officially launched at the first ever health care conference (sponsored by Standard Enzyme Co. and Bremen Health Clinic) in November of 2011.

As we look into the future of the 21st Century we find that every family faces health challenges of their own. AONH believes there is much we can accomplish together as we promote natural health care options and serve as a valued resource for natural health practitioners as well as the public.

Since

AONH has been faithfully committed to the public education and the professional development of natural health care around the world.

Join us as we remember our dear friend and share stories of how he impacted the health of thousands.
